

DETECTIVES SEEK SERVANT TO CLEAR UP BABY'S DEATH

Woman Discharged Three Weeks Ago Made Threats
When She Was Leaving.

Detectives Granger and Krummelt of the Queens Park, Queens, police station, are searching for the lower Third avenue employment agencies in this city to-day for the servant who was discharged from the family of Herman Sorenson at Woodhaven, L. I., three weeks ago. They think the girl may have taken the child to the death by poisoning Sunday afternoon of the Sorenson's eleven-month-old child, Anna.

Mrs. Sorenson went out at half past five Sunday afternoon to visit her husband. She had put her two-year-old son Herman to bed and tucked in the sick baby, who seemed much better than she had been for a week. There were left in the house Mary Blakes, the cook maid, and her five-year-old child and Ethel Cover, a little girl of No. 216 Dividing avenue, Woodhaven. Herman Sorenson, eleven years old, was playing in the front yard.

Soon after the mother went out Jeanette Sorenson, a seven-year-old girl, came to the house to get her hat and slipped in the baby's room at the back of the second floor. She told Mary Blakes as she went out that the baby was dead asleep. The maid was at the front of the house continuously except for about fifteen minutes when she was in the attic. The front doors were unlocked, as usual.

Dr. Charles Wuest, a Brooklyn Coroner's physician, who has performed twenty-two hundred autopsies and attended many others, reported to-day that the child died of irritant poison administered within a few minutes before the parents entered the house Sunday morning.

Woodhaven is not in Dr. Wuest's jurisdiction, but Dr. Francis Mark of Queens County invited him to attend the autopsy.

"We found two needles in the baby," Dr. Wuest said, "which must have been there from two weeks to a month. They are sufficient to explain her illness. By tracing their course we are satisfied that they entered by the throat. One of them passed through the heart, but without causing a hemorrhage, and had lodged in the liver. The other was in the muscles of the abdomen, with the point penetrating the abdominal cavity. Neither was the direct cause of death."

There were traces of an irritant poison in all the organs. It was to be identified as cyanide of potassium by the post mortem odor.

Dr. Marks took away with him a quantity of shoe polish which he found in the house, a constituent of which was cyanide of potassium. He thought the dark stains might have been caused by the polish, but Mr. Sorenson said that the stains were due to a dark colored tonic administered to the baby on a physician's prescription. The medicine has all been verified since the child's death.

BUREAU OF RESEARCH DENIES FIGHT ON WALDO.

Issues Statement Showing Its Position in Relation to Police Reform.

The Bureau of Municipal Research gave out this statement: "If anything was ever made clear it is that a new man using the old methods cannot stop police inefficiency and corruption. Any old man with right methods will be infinitely better than the best of new men with wrong methods."

The Police Department is not now on trial. New York voters and taxpayers are on trial. The problem now is to give the Police Commissioner, the Mayor and the public what they have never yet had—a method of handling the police force which will protect competence and stop protecting dishonesty and incompetence.

"Only harm can come from advertising at this time that this bureau, which has spent $20,000 in getting information, wishes now to confuse, mislead and sidetrack the public by concentrating attention upon the removal of the present Commissioner."

The supreme need now is to learn whether the Mayor and candidates for Mayor propose to use the Aldermanic Inquiry's facts to reorganize the routine methods which now inevitably produce incompetence."

$10.00 Moire Coats, 6.50

A Copy of One of the Most Recent Expensive
Draped Models at a Price Startlingly Low.

The original from which this coat was copied is a $40 garment—one of the best styles we have seen this season. By eliminating some unnecessary "trills" and utilizing a good quality of moire in the making we have evolved this smart coat and marked it $6.50. Somewhat similar styles are shown downtown, but their price ticket bears the figure $10.00.

Misses' and small women's sizes 14, 16, 18; women's sizes 36 to 44.
